Strike Hits N. Y. Stock Exchanges

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 29—The New York Stock and Curb Exchanges' union employes went on strike today, but exchange members kept early trading moving at about normal pace under emergency measures.

The Financial Employes Union (AFL) threw picket lines around the exchanges shortly after 8 a. m. The lines were heavily reinforced with members of the Sailors and Seamen's unions.

Brokers entered the exchanges, however, and the quotations began flowing through on the ticker types without apparent interruption.

There was a large crowd of brokers, clerks and runners on the Stock Exchange floor as the opening bell sounded at 10 a. m.

Both exchanges suspended operations of their internal quotation bureaus, but members obtained the quotations from the floor.

The union said its membership at the Stock Exchange is 850 and at the Curb Exchange 220. It claimed all are out.

A solid line of pickets jammed the sidewalks in front of the Curb Exchange.

Set Picket Schedule

John Cole, union vice president, said picket lines would be maintained 24 hours a day "until further notice."

In addition to the striking United Financial Employes Union, pickets included the Seafarers International Union and the Sailors Union of the Pacific. They shouted "scab" at clerks and runners not on strike who joined the brokers on the floor to keep trading open.

Both Union officials and Stock Exchange executives said they planned to attend a conference at 3:30 p. m. today with Commissioner Walter A. Maggiolo, of the U. S. mediation and conciliation service. This meeting had been arranged last week.

The union said its pay demands include weekly increases of $9 and $15 in different wage brackets for the Exchange workers, and "a satisfactory union security clause." The union said present wages in both exchanges range from $27 to $102 a week.

Increases Offered

The Stock Exchange has offered $3, $4 and $5 increases and the Curb a 10 per cent cost of living bonus for a year. Both exchanges are said to have resisted the form of union security sought by the union.

About 200 members of the AFL United Financial Employes local 205 began picketing the Stock Exchange shortly after 8 a. m. Picketing of the Curb Exchange began soon afterwards. The move followed several fruitless weeks of contract negotiations between the union and the two exchanges and several member firms.

Members of the union voted to go on strike several weeks ago. A spokesman then said "when the strike comes it will come suddenly."

Union contracts with the Stock and Curb Exchanges expired March 1. Contracts with member firms have various expiration dates up to March 31.

BARUCH URGES DEFENSE PLAN

Noted Advisor Backs UMT, Draft and Economic Mobilization.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 29—Bernard M. Baruch today urged prompt enactment of universal military training and selective service legislation as a means of achieving "the stability in the world which lasting peace requires."

The financier and presidential advisor also called for an "economic mobilization plan," and said America's failure to muster all its resources now for peace would leave "no alternative but to mobilize for war" in the future.

Testifying before the senate armed services committee, Baruch suggested the appointment of someone to "watch the impact upon our economy of the partial mobilization we are entering upon and to maintain a constant inventory, balancing all our growing commitments against our wartime draft, (2) a permanent

Before Baruch spoke, Chairman Gurney (R-SD) declared his armed services committee must conclude hearings on the military phases of President Truman's stop-Russia program by the end of the week.

"We simply can't take any more time," Gurney said. "By this weekend, we will have the complete story and all shades of opinion."

Gurney's committee is considering (1) temporary revival of the wartime draft, (2) a permanent program of universal military training and (3) immediate expansion of the peacetime strength of the armed forces at a cost of $3,448,000,000.

Baruch told the committee:

"So terrible are the destructive potentialities of modern instrumentalities of war, it is no longer good enough to punish an aggressor after he has begun a war. Preventing war requires buttressing our national security before the crisis is upon us. Never again do we dare permit our own lack of preparedness to encourage any potential aggressor into attacking this country or into overrunning other peaceful nations.

"The greatest single necessity in the world today is for America to make up its mind where it stands, so that the other free peoples on earth know where to rally. Unless we come to a decision among ourselves, we invite a scattering of our friends and another war."

"Knowing where we stand, I believe, would make possible renewed endeavors to find some basis of settlement with the Soviet Union."

ORDER ISSUED AS INVITATION IS REJECTED

Mine Leader Accepts Service but Doesn't Say Whether He'll Appear.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 29—John L. Lewis was subpoenaed to appear at 2 p. m. today before a presidential board investigating the coal strike after he had refused to testify voluntarily.

The formal order was issued immediately after Lewis had turned down the board's invitation to explain the walkout of his 400,000 soft coal miners.

An hour later, two United States Marshals emerged grinning from United Mine headquarters and the marshal's office said Lewis had accepted the subpoena. This occurred after the officers had experienced difficulty getting an elevator to take them to Lewis' office. The stairs were barred.

Shortly after the deputies left, Lewis emerged with an unaccustomed smile. Asked by reporters if he will appear before the board, he answered "no comment."

Issues Reply To Board

Three minutes before a 10 a. m. deadline set for his reply, the United Mine Workers' leader fired at the board a reply to its invitation setting forth his "disinclination" to testify.

Lewis said he based this on (1) "Law" and (2) "Prejudice." He explained:

▶Neither he nor the UMW have done anything falling under the Taft-Hartley law, which President Truman has invoked in the dispute. He called this law an "infamous enactment."

▶Two of the three board members are "biased and prejudiced and in honor should not serve." He named Mark Ethridge, publisher of the Louisville, Ky., Times and Courier-Journal, and George W. Taylor, who was chairman of the old war labor board.

Lewis added that Cyrus W. Ching, the government's top conciliator, is "a truly remarkable man, who sees through the eyes of United States rubber." Ching formerly was employed by that corporation.

Should Lewis ignore the subpoena, issued under authority of the Taft-Hartley labor law, the board may go to court for an order directing Lewis' appearance.

Operators Give Testimony

The soft coal operators testified last Friday on their position in the dispute with Lewis over pensions for miners. Lewis was allowed the entire weekend to reply to the board's invitation.

The invitation to testify was issued by Federal Judge Sherman Minton, chairman of the board set up by President Truman to investigate the walkout, which is entering its third week.

A United States marshal was dispatched with the subpoena to the United Mine Workers headquarters, a few blocks away.

In his reply to the board, Lewis said in effect that the Taft-Hartley law, under which the board was appointed, had not been violated.

Neither he nor the mine workers, Lewis said, have done anything which concerns the law.

Lewis States Objections

About Ethridge, Lewis said: "Since the inception of this imbroglio, Ethridge has published biased and prejudicial editorials and special articles deleterious to this union and this writer in a newspaper controlled by him."

Taylor, he said, "for years has been an administrative hanger-on in Washington, and he has never lost an opportunity to harrass and persecute this union and this writer. He is inherently incapable of determining the distinction between a fact and a scruple."

Old War Mines Blasts Kill 23

Explosion Fatal to American Child, Another Takes 22 Filipinos' Lives.

By The Associated Press

MANILA, March 29—An old U. S. land mine exploded today, killing the eight-year-old son of an American airforce sergeant. Three girl playmates were injured, one critically.

The blast, on the Clark field airbase, was caused by a land mine planted by retreating American forces in December, 1941, to slow the Japanese.

Twenty-two Filipinos were killed Saturday on Corregidor when they entered a sealed tunnel and touched off a Japanese booby trap. They were members of a Philippines army bomb disposal unit.

Thirteenth airforce headquarters withheld names of the young victims of the Clark field tragedy. The mine, a buried fragmentation bomb, had been overlooked by both Japanese and American disposal squads.

Sixteen Philippine soldiers and six civilian laborers were killed—none of whom had been authorized to enter the sealed tunnel in which the Saturday blasts occurred. Brig. Gen. Calixtonduque announced. One injured soldier was rescued. The tunnel, used as a shelter by U. S. naval personnel in early days of the war, was sealed after Americans recaptured Corregidor in 1945.

RAIL UNIONS' HEADS MEETING

Strike May Ensue If Board's Wage Recommendations Are Rejected.

By The United Press

CLEVELAND, March 29—Top officials of three railroad brotherhoods meet here Wednesday to decide whether to accept a presidential emergency board's wage recommendations that fall short of their demands.

If rejected, the three union's 225,000 members are prepared to strike after April 20—an alternative that appeared a distinct possibility today.

They have already filed a strike notice and are exempted from the Taft-Hartley act.

Meanwhile, two other brotherhoods that comprise the five operating rail unions, planned to meet here today and the nation's carriers may be presented with two other demands after that session.

Recommendations Hit

Dr. R. Robertson, head of the locomotive firemen and enginemen, Alvaney Johnston, of the engineers, and Arthur Glover, of the switchmen's union, will meet Wednesday to consider the board's recommendation of a 15½ cents an hour increase.

The recommendations drew a blast from Robertson.

"The wage award recommendation leaves us 15 per cent worse off than we were when the last wage increase went into effect in June 1946," he said. "The railroads themselves figured the recommended increase was one of 11 per cent whereas the cost of living has gone up 26.8 per cent since June, 1946."

Scheduled to meet today were wages and rules committees of the brotherhood of railway trainmen and the order of railway conductors. A. F. Whitney, head of the trainmen, said longer vacations with pay and overtime for Sunday and holiday work probably will be discussed.

To Consider In Detail

Johnston said findings would be considered in detail at the meeting Wednesday, but added that in his opinion "the report doesn't sound too good for the brotherhoods."

Churches Are Filled For Easter Services

Large attendance generally was reported at Easter Sunday services yesterday in Marion churches. Hundreds were present for services throughout the day which included 15 sunrise services in the city.

Pastors gave special sermons, music included anthems, instrumental numbers, presentation of the Easter story in cantata form, and Easter hymns. Children's and young people's programs were featured by some churches, and others had depictions of the Easter theme in dramatic productions. The rite of administration of Holy communion had a prominent part in several services, new members were received into various congregations, and services of baptism were conducted. Two churches had special afternoon services for the sacrament of baptism. Myriads of flower arangements and potted plants, with traditional tall white lilies in prominance, were placed at altar and chancel rails, many as memorial tributes.

Contest With Reds at Crisis Pope Tells Easter Audience

By The Associated Press

VATICAN CITY, March 29—Pope Pius XII says Italy and the world are at the crossroads in the contest over communism.

"The great hour of Christian conscience has sounded," proclaimed the head of the Roman Catholic church in a noonday Easter blessing yesterday.

The white-clad pontiff spoke from a balcony of St. Peter's, the world's biggest church. Some 400,000—equal to a fourth of Rome's population—heard him from the sunlit square below.

His talk came little more than three weeks before Italy's April 18 election test between communism and its foes. His listeners, mostly Italian, outnumbered any political gathering to date.

"Deniers . . . Agitators"

He did not mention communism by name. But hearers plainly caught the meaning of his references to "deniers of that which is most sacred" and "agitators who make the negation of Christ the cornerstone of their work."

"Over this multitude of believing Rome there lies almost a shadow of singular gravity ," said the Pope.

"Rome now finds herself before, or better, in the midst of, a turning of the times which requires of the head and members of Christianity the highest vigilance, untiring preparedness and unconditioned action."

He reminded his audience of the "terrible verdict" of Jesus Christ: "Who is not with Me is against Me."

"You beloved sons and daughters well comprehend what such a crossroads signifies and contains for Rome, for Italy, for the world," he said.

"In your conscience, aroused to full understanding of its responsibility, there is no place for blind credulity towards those who at first are abundant with affirmations of respect for religion, but then, alas, reveal themselves the deniers of that which is most sacred.

No Place for Cowardice

"In your conscience there is no place for cowardice, for accommodation, for the irresolution of those who in this crucial hour believe they serve two masters.

"Your conscience knows that the realization of social justice and peace among nations can never be achieved or preserved if the eyes are closed to the light of Christ and the ears opened instead to the erroneous words of agitators who make the negation of Christ the cornerstone of their work."

He invited the world's people "to thoughts and designs of peace" the throng "our paternal apostolic benediction."

CHAMP BAND COMING FOR ARMY PARADE

Fostoria V.F.W. Unit To Lead Marchers April 6.

The Fostoria Veterans of Foreign Wars 50-piece band, winners of state and national honors, will head the Army day parade on Tuesday, April 6, it was announced today by Capt. John H. Mills, Army advisory committee chairman. The band is under the direction of Richard T. Downs, a former Marion countian and resident of Martel, with Harold Sallers as assistant director. The unit won state honors at the V. F. W. convention at Columbus in July last year and topped the entries at the national convention at Cleveland last September.

Army day in Marion and throughout the nation is being saluted by the Army, Navy, Air Force and men in high government stations. Necessity of the coordination of all arms in troubled times is stressed by Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan in his salute addressed to Secretary of the Army Kenneth C. Royall, today.

"The Navy salutes the outstanding achievements of the U. S. Army and, with its sister services, faces the future in the conviction that those liberties which our country has always cherished will eventually be the salvation of all nations."

Conservancy District Files Suits To Clarify Point on Tax Levy

Scioto-Sandusky conservancy district attorneys may take their battle with the railroads over the three-tenths mill conservancy tax levy to the Ohio supreme court if necessary, E. W. Dillon, conservancy district attorney, told The Star today.

The conservancy district seeks a court ruling to determine whether the special assessment can be levied on both real and personal property in respect to public utilities.

Attorney Dillon filed suit in Crawford county Thursday seeking a declaratory judgment to determine whether the district has authority under section 6628-1 of the Ohio general code to levy the conservancy tax on both real and personal property of public utilities.

Named as defendant was the New York Central Railroad, one of 11 lodging complaints with the various county boards of revision against the personal property assessment.

Dillon said similar suits would be filed in 19 other counties, each naming a different railroad. None would be filed in Marion county, it was announced, as the four railroads operating here are covered in suits either filed or to be filed

Seek Court Ruling

"These suits are friendly suits in which the conservancy district is seeking only to obtain a court ruling to interpret the meaning of that section of the general code covering scope of our tax power in respect to public utilities," Dillon said.

"It is to the best interests of both the railroads and the conservancy district to clear up the ambiguity of the section of the code in question," he added.

He indicated that the conserv-

State's Liquor Profits Listed

Over Half Billion Dollars Since Prohibition Repeal, Director Reports.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, March 29—Alcoholic beverages have yielded the state $547,549,616.67 since repeal of prohibition in November of 1933.

This revenue, Liquor Control Director Dale Dunifon said today, came from the net profit on state store sales, the $1 gallonage tax, permit fees and other taxes on beer and wines.

Dunifon gave the following breakdown covering the period from 1933 through 1947 for liquor control department collections:

Net profit on state store sales $142,217,369.60.

Gallonage tax $100,806, 960.05.

Permit fees $77,696,230.05.

These figures showed the liquor control department collected a total revenue of $320,720,429.70. Revenues collected by other state agencies on malt beverage, crown, wine and sales taxes totaled $226,829,186.97 from 1933 through 1947.

Dunifon pointed out that federal taxes on alcoholic beverages sold in Ohio were not included in the figures. The federal gallonage tax on $9, a 100 proof gallon is paid by the distillers. It is included in the price charged Ohio's monopoly stores.

Dunifon estimated that 8,556,000 gallons of liquor sold in state stores last year meant around $65,000,000 in federal tax. The estimate was based on an average of 85 proof for the spirits handled.

Dunifon said that since the first state stores opened in April, 1934, sales have totaled $1,045,796,284.90 with a net profit of $142,217,239.60. The state monopoly system had its largest net profit in 1947 in the amount of $16,043,364.06. The largest consumption of liquor containing 21 per cent or more alcohol, however, was in 1942, when 10,597,985 gallons were sold. Consumption in 1947 was around 200,000 gallons under 1942.

Revenues from beer and malt stamps and beer permits rose from $1,740,837.51 during the short period of 1933 to a high of $56,325,020.27 in 1947.

CANCER FIGHT GROUP BEGUN IN HARDIN CO.

Special to The Star

KENTON, March 29—Steps toward formation of a Hardin county cancer committee are being taken here. The group is to operate under the supervision of the American Cancer society and to provide for the carrying out of the society's service program here.

Interested laymen met at the Veterans Memorial park with John Kalina, Cleveland, field representative of the Ohio Cancer committee. Application was made for a charter, and Mr. George C. Hindall of Ada was named temporary chairman of an executive committee as designated by the group.

The local committee has requested Dr. H. R. Johnson, as representative of the Hardin county medical association, to ask for the association's endorsement of the program here with a view to proceeding with plans for a campaign for funds during April.

The local program seeks to provide an information center where persons can get answers to questions concerning cancer, its detection, control and treatment. As the program develops and with adequate financing, services may be expanded to include a detection center, diagnostic clinic and (in its completed stage) a treatment center. Steps taken must be directed or approved by the medical association and its cancer committee.

The initial meeting was called by Dr. D. D. Mulvaine. Others present were George C. Hindall and Mrs. Marian Rogers of Ada, Fred Kennedy and Clifford S. Mitchell of Mt. Victory, and from Kenton E. T. Ballinger, H. R. Johnson, Neil Ahlefeld, Ralph V. Sprang and E. S. Rutledge. These persons and the following were named as members of the executive committee:

Charles Iams, Ridgeway; Blue, Dunkirk; Lacy Kir McGuffey; Wellington Hanso ger; Mrs. George McElroy, Dr. Baldwin, Dunkirk; Hal S Forest; Wayne T. Mathews Sterling Pfeiffer, Frank B and Keith Ehresman, Kent

M. E. Blue, Dunkirk, was en campaign chairman fo April fund drive.

"Whistling for a wind," is lieved to have originated amo the Vikings who hoped that they whistled, Thor, the god o winds, might whistle a reply thereby filling their sails with wind.

Plain Words By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

...NTING heads—the national ...nsus—starts in April, 1950. ...ensus bureau is preparing ...

...940, with 130,000 field... ...rs knocking on doors, the ... cost $50,000,000. There's ...ss on the cost of the one ...

...ow the population is ... 145,000,000. In 1950 it will ... 148,000,000.

...The census has to be taken every 10 years, the constitution says so. The reason?

James Marlow

To find out how many representatives each state should have in the house of congress. A state's representation is based on its population.

The census bureau does the counting. It has 3,000 people here, about 700 around the country. The director of the census is J. C. Capt. He was appointed by the President in 1941.

Before census-taking starts, the director picks a manager for each state, then brings all 48 to Washington. They're trained here.

Then they go home. Each state is divided into a number of census districts. There's a district supervisor for each district.

The manager calls them together and trains them. They go back to their districts and train the people hired to take the census, the door knockers.

They'll start out April 1, 1950, with questionnaires in forms about 28 inches wide, 40 inches long, and 50 lines for questions on each side.

They'll ask questions like these: Age, race, sex, state where born, married or single, widowed or divorced, income, employed and if so in what kind of work, unemployed, how many years of schooling.

You won't be asked whether you can read or write. That used to be asked. The census bureau says it dropped that because now only about one per cent of the people can't write or read.

IT WILL TAKE ABOUT 30 days to finish the questions. The bureau then will need about three years to complete an analysis of all the information its field workers have gathered.

But it will have the figures on the population of the United States before the end of 1950. The President will give that information to the congress which sits in 1951.

That congress, using the population figures, will make any changes necessary in the number of representatives in the house. This will be done in time for the elections of 1952.

So if there's any change in the number of house members—there are 435 now—it won't go into effect till the new congress sits in 1953.

THE FIRST CENSUS was taken in 1790. The population then was 3,929,214. U. S. marshalls and their deputies did the door-to-door job. Their job was simple.

They just asked the name of the head of the household and the number of people living there. More things were added from time to time.

In 1810 a census was started on the number of manufacturing plants in this country, and what kind. In 1840 a census on farms started: How many farmers, number of livestock, kinds of crops, and so on.

In 1850, instead of asking just the name of the head of a household, the census-taken began getting the names of all the people in a house.

And more questions as the years moved on: Whether a person could read or write; month and year of birth; sex; in what state born; whether foreign born and, if so, where; when came to this country.

UNTIL 1902 THE President appointed a superintendent of census but his work took only about three years. The first director was appointed in 1902. His job is a pretty steady thing, year in and year out.

Besides the population figures, and the census on farms and manufacturing plants, the census bureau also checks periodically on businesses. In 1940 a census on housing was taken.

The bureau publishes various books of statistics. If you want the best all-around one it's called "Statistical Abstract of the United States" for 1947. This book is published yearly.

It costs $2.75 and you can buy it by writing to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C.

REV. DAVID E. WEINZIERL

To Be Music Director For Revival Services

Music director for a joint evangelistic effort of the Maranatha Bible church and the Christian and Missionary Alliance congregation, starting at the Maranatha church Tuesday night, will be Rev. David E. Weinzierl, Missionary Alliance pastor. The evangelist will be Rev. Tom Presnell, who has held special meetings throughout this country, and has his headquarters in Marion. Rev. Earl L. Holliday is pastor of the Maranatha church.

The meetings will be held each night through April 11. Before coming to Marion as pastor last August, Rev. Weinzierl had spent some time in musical activities. He took work at Columbia university, New York City, and his theological training was received at the Missionary Training institute in New York where he was a member of a vocal quartet which traveled in the interest of the school and made numerous recordings. He was tenor soloist during his training in the school chorus which has sung each year in an engagement at Carnegie hall in New York City. Recently, he has directed music of several Youth for Christ programs in towns of this area.

Police FBI Graduates To Meet at Mansfield

Ohio police officers who have graduated from the FBI National Academy in Washington, D. C., are meeting in Mansfield on Wednesday. Meade K. Bates, president of the Ohio Chapter of the FBI National Academy Associates, announces a dinner will be held at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Following the dinner, a talk entitled "Safety-Town" will be made by Frend C. Boals, traffic commissioner of Mansfield. Boals is the originator of the nationally-known program of "Safety-Town," wherein children are furnished miniature cars and actual traffic signals are set up on a panorama of street intersections. The children are thereby made acquainted with driver and pedestrian safety habits. Other police matters will be discussed and committees set up for future programs.

Z. G. McClenathan of the Marion police department, who is a graduate of the FBI National Academy and a member of this organization, is planning to attend the meeting.

Today's biggest power bargain

WHY WE CAN MAKE THIS OFFER

Out at the Buick plant, engine production is going great guns. It's stepping along faster than complete car output. So we have these brand-new engines ready to put in your car right now.

It's a Complete New Buick Engine and We'll put it in Your Car at a Price You'll hardly Believe

YES sir, here's a big bargain for Buick owners—a brand-new straight-from-the-production-line Fireball engine. We'll put it in any Buick from 1937 models on up.

We'll take out your old mile-weary engine, put this one in, and make your car brand-new again as far as power is concerned.

Pep and snap come back—right up to 1948 standards. You get new-engine mileage from every gallon of gas. Oil consumption drops. And you enjoy the thrill of the liveliest, most responsive engine on the road today—the same engine that makes Buick the snappiest car on the highways.

Think what this will mean to you—in comfort of driving—in new dependability—in sheer fun. Think of the extra worth of your car when it comes time to turn it in.

As to cost—it's so moderate it makes this change-over today's best power buy. Installation cost varies somewhat with car model. But we'll be glad to give you the figure down to the dollar if you'll drive around.

Don't put it off. Make up your mind to drive a 1948-powered car now. Come in and talk it over.

Quick Starts and Driving Zip

Annual Inspection Held By Masonic Lodge No. 70

Annual inspection of Marion Lodge No. 70, F. and A. M., was held at the Masonic temple Friday night by Thomas A. Reber of Upper Sandusky, Ohio grand lodge marshal. In behalf of the members of Marion lodge, Harvey T. Gracely, a member of the board of trustees of the Ohio Masonic home at Springfield, presented a check for $1,250 to Burleigh E. Cartmell, superintendent of the home. This brings to $6,000 the amount given by Marion lodge to the home endowment fund during the last five years, it was stated.

Preceding the meeting, dinner was served by members of Lydia Chapter No. 83, O.E.S. Present were 307 representatives of 27 lodges. Besides Mr. Reber, James C. Musser of Degraff, district deputy grand master of Masonic District No. 15, Ralph E. Carhart of Marion, inspector of the fifth arch of the grand council of Ohio, and Mr. Gracely, who is a past grand master of the grand council, were introduced and gave short talks.

Mr. Cartmell is a past high priest of the grand chapter. Work and activities of Marion lodge were complimented by Mr. Reber. Delegations were present from Cleveland, Upper Sandusky, Prospect, Mt. Gilead, Caledonia, La-Rue, Degraff, Ashley and Bellefontaine, besides individual members from other lodges.

Your Good Health

Painful Disease of Spine

One ailment which is thought to be largely due to the natural wear and tear of living is the osteoarthritis if the spine which not infrequently develops in middle-aged and elderly people. In this condition, there is inflammation of the joints of the spine and overgrowth of the bony tissues.

Normally, the bones of the spine are separated and cushioned by the little discs of cartilage which lie between them. During the course of a long life, changes in posture and even ordinary movements may result in repeated slight injuries to these tiny cushions so that eventually they become flattened and less elastic.

When this happens, the bones are thrown a bit out of position and inflammation may result. The swelling of the joint tissues, which always accompanies this process, then causes pressure on the nerves which run through the spinal column, thus accounting for the pain which is such a common symptom of this disease.

Since osteoarthritis often develops in the upper part of the spine, this pain is most frequently felt around the shoulders. In most cases it begins suddenly. Many times the patient goes to bed feeling all right and awakens in the morning with pain in the shoulder. The pain may pass down into the arm. Coughing, sneezing, or certain movements of the head tend to make it worse.

In other patients, the chief symptoms are loss of the use of the hand, agonizing pain in the fingers, together with swelling and stiffness. Tingling, burning and numbness in the hand and fingers also sometimes occur.

The patient with this condition may have occasional attacks of stiffness in the neck, although in most instances he will be unaware that the real trouble lies in the upper part of the spine.

If a patient has symptoms typical of osteoarthritis, he should, of course, have an examination made of the spine and the shoulders. The doctors will see that X-ray pictures are taken from the side as well as from the front. The plates will often show that there has been an overgrowth of the bony tissues around the openings in the spine from which come the nerves leading to the shoulders and other parts of the body.

There are other conditions which may produce similar symptoms. For example, there may be inflammation of a bursa, a sac containing fluid, in the shoulder. However, the pain in such cases is much more severe, and there is also tenderness of the shoulder.

Proper treatment of osteoarthritis of the spine often brings relief from the pain. In mild cases, the patient may be up and about but must wear some type of support or device to give the neck a rest. Hot, wet packs, followed by massage and gentle stretching may be given daily. Heat lamps are also useful. As soon as the acute symptoms subside, active exercise of the neck may be started.

Of course, there are also drugs which may be used to relieve the pain and produce muscular relaxation.

Questions and Answers

F. K.: Is it true that phobia goes with the menopause?

Answer: Mental disturbances such as phobias or fears may appear during the menopause. In cases of this type, the services of a psychiatrist are required. In most instances, however, change of life does not produce any mental upsets.

Bowling Alley Operator Fined on Two Charges

Stephen Herman Kayatin, 32, operator of the Recreation Bowling Alley at 126 South Prospect street was fined a total of $25 and costs on two charges filed by Miss Grace Seitz, of Tiffin, state employment division agent. Kayatin was found guilty of employing minors under 16 years of age in a place of amusement after 6 p. m. and employing a minor under 16 in a bowling alley.

George J. Englert, assistant chief of enforcement for the state wage and hour division said today Kayatin's arrest followed five verbal warnings and was only the first in this area in a statewide campaign to stop illegal employment of minors. The campaign is a result of complaints by school authorities throughout the state that many students dozed in classrooms as a result of illegal employment at night.

Englert added that a continuous investigation is in progress here to assure that employment laws concerning minors are complied with by employers. The next phase of enforcement will be concerned with checking local employers to see that all minors legally employed have schooling certificates and are working under written agreements with employers, stating wages and hours in writing, as required by law.

CONSERVANCY

ancy district was prepared to carry its fight for inclusion of personal tax assessment on the railroads to the supreme court for a final ruling.

Pay Part of Tax

The railroads meanwhile have paid only that portion of the 3 mill levy that applies to their real estate holdings. These were estimated to be only about 10 per cent of the railroads' public utility valuation, the balance being personal property which the railroads seek exempted.

They have filed complaints with the board of revision in each conservancy district county seeking reduction in assessments.

First county to consider action is Franklin county where the board of revision has permitted the railroads to file additional briefs supporting their complaint. A preliminary hearing was held Monday by that board which has withheld its decision pending further study of the complaint.

The conservancy district sought to restrain hearing of the complaint by filing for injunction in Franklin county common pleas court.

Court Declines To Rule

The court refused to intervene in the dispute, Common Pleas Judge John R. King denying the request, ruling that the conservancy district was asking the court to halt performance of duty and obligation required of the board of revision by state law. In throwing out the injunction request, he said the board of revision had the right to hear the railroad's complaint and take action.

The Marion county board of revision comprising Harry V. Mounts, auditor, Marion Hinklin, treasurer, and Carl Lehner, chairman of the county commissioners, is taking no action on the issue here, pending outcome of the conservancy district fight to get the full tax levy against the railroads on the books.

Mr. Mounts indicated the local board would watch developments closely both on the part of the Franklin county board of revision to take action on the hearing and in Crawford county common pleas court where the conservancy district is continuing its fight from another angle. He indicated he intended to attend the final hearing of the Franklin county board of revision on the railroad complaint scheduled within the next week or two in Columbus. Date of the hearing has not been definitely set by the Franklin county board.

PEDESTRIAN INJURED IN TRAFFIC MISHAP

Frank Redd, 63, Released Following Hospital Treatment.

Two accidents, one injury, and four traffic arrests were reported by police over the weekend.

At 7:47 p. m. Saturday Frank Redd, 63, of 466 North Grand avenue was struck by a Red Cab taxi driven by John E. Robbins, 24, of 213½ Sharp street while crossing from the south side of West Center street at Kenton avenue. Mr. Redd suffered lacerations of the head and was taken to City hospital for treatment, after which he was released.

At 12:05 p. m. Saturday a car driven by William Kehrwecker, 53, of 971 Henry street traveling west on West Center street, stopped to make a left turn into Davids street when a car driven by Francis Kebler collided with the rear of the Kehrwecker car. Slight damage to both vehicles resulted.

Two arrests on charges of speeding were made early today by police. Rex Wilkie Sturgeon, 19, of 433 Girard avenue was arrested at 12:56 a. m. and charged with speeding on Girard avenue. Jack Eugene Darling, 23, of 722 Herman street was arrested at 2:33 a. m. for speeding on West Center street. Both were fined $15 and costs on arraignment in municipal court today.

Kenneth Coykendall, 34, of 384 Girard street was arrested at 12:01 a. m. Sunday and charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. Upon arraignment in municipal court this morning Judge Hazen reminded him this was his second arrest on the same charge, fined him $100 and costs and suspended his driving privileges for three years.

Cornelius Joseph Brady, 46, of Cleveland was arrested at 1:15 a. m. Sunday morning and charged with operating a car on Mill street while intoxicated. He posted a $125 bond for his appearance tomorrow and was released.

Judge Denies Stay Of ITU Injunction

By The Associated Press

HAMMOND, Ind., March 29—The AFL International Typographical Union today was denied a stay of an injunction restraining from causing printers' strikes that violate the Taft-Hartley law.

Union counsel had asked Federal Judge Luther M. Swygert to stay his injunction order of Saturday pending an appeal. The injunction was granted to the government as a result of a strike of ITU printers on Chicago newspapers and in other cities.

"The court has found the probable existence of certain unfair labor practices and they have an effect on the public interest," Judge Swygert said in denying the stay.

Person-To-Person Help

SUBSTITUTES for the Marshall plan are little more than talking points at this late date, but one offered by Representative Gwinn of New York helps to show by contrast what could be the downfall of the kind of aid the United States will give under a government program of assistance.

The Gwinn substitute is based on its author's conviction that government assistance will prove to be a means of subsidizing European state socialism with American taxpayers' money. Therefore, he reasons, if the purpose is to save freedom in Europe, the assistance should be from free men to free men. He would set up a non-profit corporation to relieve hunger; the cost to be shared by individuals and government. Industrial assistance would come from free American enterprise, assisted by suspension of income taxes on profits from foreign investment and salaries earned abroad by Americans helping to put European business back on its feet by sharing their personal skill and experience. For military assistance, the Gwinn proposal would give the Chief Executive of the United States a billion dollars to allocate where it was needed. The author points out there would be no new government bureaucracy created by his proposal. It would merely open the door to private citizens willing to help Europeans help themselves.

"For the first time in our history," says Representative Gwinn, "Americans would be made free to give their capital and invention and productive and cooperative capacity to the industrialization of other countries as they gave to America."

Ah, Spring

WITH Easter past and April hard by, spring is here in actuality as well as in theory. There may be an occasional isolated snow flurry and night temperatures in the 30's but these will be only passing meteorological vagaries.

Northering baseball teams wend slowly o'er the lea toward their home lots. The gardener riffles his seed catalog, takes inventory of his armamentarium of hoes and rakes, and with an exploratory toe probes the good black loam as he visualizes where he'll set out the tomato plants.

Hair cascading in the breeze, the slick number who owns the 1948 convertable flashes by with its top down, a four-color automobile come to life. There is a bull market in wallpaper cleaner. Smoke rises as neighborhood vacant lots are burned off.

With basket and knife, the dandelion hunter takes to the fields. Jars of pussy willows take the sun in school windows. "A livelier iris changes on the burnished dove," Tennyson observed, and in the next line he noted that this is the season when the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love. Time has tarnished neither the wisdom nor the meter of his observations.

Street-patching crews stir up batches of blacktop and go forth to repair winter's damage. There are spurts of activity around the unfinished house on which work had been suspended. Kites soar, marbles click. Robins preen. Roosters arch their necks.

Such is spring, a good time to be alive, for when the year is young its youthfulness is infectious.

Stalinists Denied Courtesy

REPRESENTATIVE COX of Georgia has said for the record what most Americans are ready to hear—that the abuse of free speech by homegrown Stalinists has worn out America's patience.

Commenting on a typical party-line blast in the house last Thursday by Representative Marcantonio, who has followed the Moscow line closely during his many terms in congress, Cox said for the record:

"How long, I wonder, must members of this body sit here and hear assaulted from day to day the government we love and by people who would rip from the wall that symbol of liberty that hangs above the speaker's rostrum."

Speaker Martin, when Marcantonio demanded that Cox's remark be stricken from the record ordered it to be left in. For the first time Marcantonio was given official notice that he no longer deserved the courtesy of the congress of the United States.

He was not—mark this well—deprived of his right to speak. He was denied, as apologists for Stalinism everywhere should be denied, the right to present himself as an American citizen speaking in good faith. His rights and rights of all others like him have reverted to the coldly legalistic basis of the Constitution. They have abused and worn out the moral right to be listened to on a basis of good faith. They are not presenting honest differences of opinion but the upside-down reasoning and malicious falsehoods that are the trademarks of Stalinist doctrine. Their bad faith has been shown to be so gross and palpable by the bad faith of the regime they defend that they have no further claim on a respectful hearing in the country they are plotting to destroy.

Four years of newspaper production in the United States requires enough newsprint to make a strip as wide as a newspaper to the sun and back.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Truman's Career Ends in Confusion of Misfortune.

NO president, since Andrew Johnson, faced the personal misfortune that bring to an end Harry Truman's career as president. He has lost the confidence of the people, he has lost the support of his party. The last two years of Herbert Hoover's presidency were very hard, indeed, but his party stood by him until he was actually defeated!

Harry Truman is being deserted on all sides. In the south, his party's stronghold, a revolt of a most serious nature is in actual being. In the big cities of the north, the representatives of his party are declaring that they cannot support him, although the convention is four months away. Men who had planned to run for office on the Democratic ticket are backing away from it, because they have assured themselves that defeat is inevitable, not only for him but for anyone that runs with him.

SOKOLSKY

The possibility is that President Truman puts all this opposition down to self-interest on the part of others. The southerners are annoyed with him for sponsoring a federal fair employment practices act; the northern big city Democrats are angry over the Palestine fiasco; some western "isolationists" object to ERP; and so on over a dozen issues. He undoubtedly believes that he has given the country a competent administration in the face of the most complex difficulties which he inherited from President Roosevelt and none of which were of his making.

Avoids Wallace Fight

No one tells him that his backing away from a fight with Henry Wallace over basic issues reduced him to a ridiculous position. For weeks after Henry Wallace projected himself as a national savior, all the tipsters were reporting an internal quarrel in the White House between the conservatives represented by Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder and Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson on one side, and the radicals represented by Senator J. Howard McGrath and the employe of the Democratic national committee, Gael Sullivan, on the other side.

The conservative Democrats apparently advocated a firm policy of national reconstruction; the radicals proposed that the President do anything that came to mind, to win the 1948 election. The mathematical calculation was based on the assumption that the south stays put, blindly voting for any Democrat, no matter what he does. With that as a base, it was still possible to win if only he squeezes through in the northern big cities.

That was the argument that won the day. So Mr. Truman came through with his federal fair employment practices program which was designed to please the northern negroes; he supported the Palestine partition scheme; he pulled the CIO and the AFL out of the Wallace ranks. He even went easy on the Communists, avoiding great pressures with regard to loyalty, failing to stop the shipment of war supplies to Soviet Russia, preventing the federal grand jury in New York from handing down a presentment on Jan. 20, as planned.

Time Won't Wait

But time does not wait for an election. The Isacson election in the Bronx, the Russian seizure of Czechoslovakia, the Italian elections, the open warfare between Jews and Arabs in Palestine, the prospective British withdrawal from Palestine, the terrific pressure from Europe for an immediate ERP, the demands of Chiang Kai-shek in China as a result of Communist victories—these are but a few of the issues that refused to wait for the 1948 elections.

At such a moment, Harry Truman needed the decisiveness of a man who knew his way, whose philosophy of life was so certain and fixed that no one could mistake his responses to any challenge. Instead, he vacillated, reversed himself, spoke out of turn and contradicted himself by his acts. He fell through indecision, and his indecision was a product of lack of personal knowledge, for no one, not even his worst enemies, will question Harry Truman's intentions.

And so it is all over. He might just as well not run. And while the Republicans may rejoice at his discomfiture, for the country, it is not too good, as Henry Wallace is liable to garner a huge protest vote which will give us Wallace as a national nuisance. Too much Wallace may be too much for the United States.

Doctrine of Total War

By Walter Lippmann

THE mounting tension has brought with it a spirit of fatalism — a feeling that events may be beyond the control of Stalin and the Soviet government. There is no warrant in the situation for such helplessness and hopelessness unless we become rattled and first lose control of ourselves.

This country is so nearly invulnerable, and its potential power, moral and material, is quite sufficient, to enable us to take the view that we shall hold firmly for ourselves the right to decide not only if we shall act, but when, where, how, and for what end.

LIPPMANN

The spirit of fatalism is merely a reflection of the fact that we have for so long a time been carrying on a policy which is generalized, vague, defensive and inconclusive and not directed, that behind them there is no strategical plan and no clear diplomatic objective.

When the administration has clarified its purposes and its conceptions and its objectives, as it must if it is to regain the initiative and the control of events fatalism will give way to resolution and confidence.

But of all the causes of the fatalistic feeling that we are no longer the masters of our destiny, that modern man is obsolete, that western civilization is perishing, none perhaps is so insidious as the contemporary doctrine of total war.

It is of the utmost importance that this doctrine—which is universally accepted — be re-examined, and particularly by our military leaders and our diplomats.

For it may be true, and I venture to think it is true, that this doctrine is a military heresy, a legacy of Hitler's satanic genius, profoundly inapplicable to conflict with Russia, and fatal to those who, like Hitler, would entertain it.

The doctrine of total war is, like most heresies, a half truth. It is true that in any large modern war the whole population and its whole resources will be engaged, and that there is no such thing as the exemption of civilians or their immunity. But it is not necessarily true that war waged with total effort must be waged for total ends—for the absolute, unlimited destruction of the enemy state and the total subjection of its population.

Willed by Hitler

The German war, alas, was fought to a total end because Hitler willed it that way, and was able to destroy any German successor government with which peace could have been negotiated. The European settlement has been made well-nigh impossible as a result.

But the Italian war, and even the Japanese war, were not fought for total but for limited ends. Verbally the surrenders were unconditional. In fact the Italians have, and the Japanese will get, a negotiated peace. Can there be any question that the outcome is preferable? And does this not prove that even in the modern age a total war need not necessarily be absolute, unlimited, and total?

The experience of history shows, I think, that Russia has often been defeated in limited wars for limited objectives but that those who, like Napoleon and Hitler, wage total war against the Russians are disastrously defeated. There is no reason to think that modern weapons would produce a different result.

The Russian empire is a far more powerful military state than it has ever been before. It is better organized and disciplined to wage total war and to resist it.

Our military leaders, therefore, have a very special responsibility to see to it that the civilian leaders and our people generally do not, even if it comes to war, commit this country to an unlimited war, which if it could be won at all, could be won only at a cost of blood and treasure which would make the victory ruinous.

Americans Susceptible

For the American people are particularly susceptible to the dangerous, perhaps fatally dangerous, heresy of total war for total ends and they are in great need of firm and lucid military leaders, like Secretary Marshall himself, like Eisenhower, Bradley, and one may hope MacArthur as well.

The American civilian population is susceptible to the heresy of unlimited war in many ways. There is the idealistic tradition, which Wilson formulated, that this country cannot with a good conscience recognize any settlement which rests on a balance of power and the existence of spheres of special influence.

Come One, Come All

Selective service was a comparatively simple matter for Emperor Haile Selassie when Mussolini attacked Ethiopia in 1935. U. S. army says he issued this draft order:

"When this order is received, all men and boys able to carry a spear will go to Addis Ababa.

"Every married man will bring his wife to cook and wash for him.

"Every unmarried man will bring any unmarried woman he can find to cook and wash for him.

"Women with babies, the blind, and those too aged and infirm to carry a spear, are excused.

"Anyone found at home after receiving this order will be hanged."

The Roosevelt Letter

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

WHETHER it was an act of courage or an act of base betrayal, it now seems more than possible that President Harry S. Truman's reversal of American policy on Palestine will cost him not merely the election but also the Democratic nomination. From California to New York, the revolt within the Democratic party against Truman, long smoldering is now breaking into open flame and in the North it centers around the Palestine issue. But the Democratic high command is far less disturbed by the thunderbolts hurled by minor Democratic political bosses than by a short, calmly phrased letter which arrived at the White House a few days ago.

The letter is from Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. Mrs. Roosevelt has written that she can not approve the new American policy on Palestine unless there were reasons for the decision which she does not know. She points out that as American delegate to the United Nations she is an official American representative. Thus it might be embarrassing to the administration if she were to make a public stand against one aspect of official American policy. Therefore, she writes, she feels that she should offer to resign as an American UN delegate.

Quite apart from its political implications, Mrs. Roosevelt's resignation as a UN delegate would be a serious loss to the United States. Her courage, her hard work and her calm common sense have earned her the admiring respect of all those who have worked with her, including such old enemies of the New Deal as Warren Austin and Allen Dulles. For these reasons if for no other, every possible effort will be made by the White House to persuade her not to resign over the Palestine issue.

Asset To Truman

But there are other reasons. Mrs. Roosevelt is more than a UN delegate and the late President's widow. She is also, in the words of one astute politician, "the Truman Administration's greatest single political asset and pretty near its last asset." Her support has kept many restive former New Dealers unenthusiastically in line behind Truman and in her own right, she exercises great influence with a large section of the voters.

Thus the letter to the White House, whether she resigns or not, raises the question of her continued support for Truman. There have been reliable reports that she has discussed with more than one New York political leader her mounting dissatisfaction with the way things are going in Washington. Her resignation as a UN delegates would focus attention on this dissatisfaction. Moreover, even if she does not resign, her remarks to the New York leaders suggest the possibility that she might actively support the growing movement in the Democratic party to replace Truman by another nominee.

That would be the last nail in President Truman's political coffin. The coffin is already, to be sure, liberally studded with nails. The unkindest cut of all was the repudiation of Truman by Alabama's liberal Senator Lister Hill, who had been counted on to go along with Truman till the last. Hill's action has made the southern revolt virtually unanimous—among the southern senators only Florida's oratorical Claude Pepper remains somewhat nervously on the fence. At the same time the northern revolt threatens to get completely out of hand.

New York Deflection

In New York City a whole gaggle of minor Democratic leaders have disowned the President. From Chicago, there are reports that powerful Democratic satrap Arvey is leaving the Truman reservation. And in California, the pro-Truman wing of the Democratic party again threatens to disintegrate. A number of California delegates are talking of bolting Truman, and State Chairman James Roosevelt and National Chairman Howard McGrath will have wrought a minor miracle if they succeed in gluing the party together again.

Finally, there is reason to believe that the powerful anti-Communist and anti-Wallace wing of the labor movement is about to join the revolt. The AFL's Max Zaritsky has already issued an anti-Truman blast and there is a good chance that other and more powerful labor leaders in both the AFL and CIO may soon publicly express their private dissatisfaction with the Administration. Clearly, it is becoming difficult to find any Democrats outside the White House who are now pro-Truman.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Letters for Special Delivery

THE MISSOURI & PACIFIC RAILROAD CO.
GENTS:

Salutations, compliments and three cheers. You have issued an order instructing trainmen to cease clamming up on passengers when railroad delays and give them the dope on what's the trouble. This epochal in American railroading, unless I am wrong again.

In all my experience, man and boy on railroad trains, it has seemed policy to drop an iron curtain between the customers and the outside world whenever a train took to a siding for a half hour or so, went into a state of suspense on the main line or otherwise ceased functioning. It always seemed to me that the trainmen took a particular delight in taking on an air of great secrecy. "Tell 'em nuthin'!" seemed to be the slogan in all such pinches.

PHILLIPS

I have seen the politest and most considerate conductors, affable and talkative on all other occasions, clam up like State Department officials the moment the train went into a tie-up and the passengers asked such a simple question as "What seems to be the trouble?" Even when I assumed that perhaps they did not know all the details and asked "What is your best guess?" I never got to first base.

* * *

"Now you are only passengers and you ought to know better than to expect the slightest information on what has happened to this train or how's chances of getting out" seemed to be the one message conveyed by the frozen stares of the train crews. I have always felt that at a tie-up a conductor was not even permitted to answer a question like "What time is it?" "Gotta match?" or "Didn't you have a brother-in Cos Cob named Joe?"

* * *

It was always hard to understand on account of the train crews behaved like reasonable human beings when the train was in motion and I got the idea that before any man was given a job as a conductor the road possibly gave him one last emphatic order, 'Listen, mister, we may be willing to overlook a few faults, but the first time we catch you giving a passenger the slightest inkling on what has happened when a train is delayed, out you go on your ear!"

* * *

To know that a railroad has actually issued a formal order to "answer intelligently and patiently all reasonable inquiries by passengers in times of delays" takes the wind out of me. I am inclined to bellow for confirmation and demand it in writing. It is revolutionary, unique, extraordinary and flabbergasting. It is also a swell idea.

* * *

I hope you will go through with it. It will take lots of following up. The train crews have been too long accustomed to the "I can't talk" policy to be broken of the habit easily. However, thanks again, and good luck.

Yours,
ELMER.

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: There are a lot of things wrong with everything, according to what I read in the papers. I should be worried sick. But I'm not. Never felt better.

Probably it's because I am older than almost anybody alive and am just about through with worrying, especially the kind that doesn't do any good. As long as I do my best, which is all that anyone can be expected to do, there's no point in borrowing trouble.

There is nothing that I can do about Palestine, for instance. Or Czechoslovakia, Finland, the Dodecanese Islands, Batavia or Korea. I am out of touch with the Benelux countries, a fact that is causing me no sense of being left out of things. I do not want any Arabian oil, lifelines to India because me no concern whatever and what is happening to the Chinese probably is no better or worse than what has happened to them for the last thousand years. And there again, what can I do about it?

Do not get the idea that I am an isolationist. I am a moderationist, if there must be a label for me. My heart bleeds for the downtrodden and my gorge rises when bullies make mince at the helpless but I simply do not have enough time in the course of my day to brood about these things. All I can do is pay my taxes. For one thing I have been too busy lately cleaning the cistern to think about all the things that need cleaning on the other side of the earth.

No one around here seems to be worried much about the communists for the simple reason that there aren't any to worry about—around here, that is. I guess they know better than to monkey with farmers. Their Sunday pitch is to people jammed up against one another in cities—people who don't know how it feels to possess anything except neuroses and inhibitions. I've always predicted no good would come of this and events are bearing me out.

We have a new dog. He adopted us. I advertised in the Record for a week and no one claimed him, so I bought him a collar and we are getting along fine. Luckily, he's mature and knows what he wants, which is a good thing in dogs. I do not have much use for pups any more. They baffle me. The new dog is sort of a cur type and likes olives.

Your aunt is well and I am well. The jonquils are coming up on the south side of the house. Things are all closed up again at the sugar camp—just a fair season. I saved five gallons for you whenever you want to come and get it. In case of war it would come in handy. What I should worry about that, I suppose. All right, I am worrying. But what can I do except pray that the human race has learned something, which I doubt?

Your aunt sends her regards. I send mine. Tell the rising generation it won't be long until summer vacation and we can go fishing. I caught three suckers in the creek day before last and had them for breakfast the next morning. They were just fair.

Owners of Unlicensed Dogs Being Sought

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, March 29 — One hundred Morrow countians have now been cited to court for owning or harboring unlicensed dogs according to county dog Warden Floyd Sterritt. Of this number 83 have appeared in court and have been fined, he said. The current drive conducted by Sterritt and his deputy Elmer Ullom started two months ago after an exceedingly high number of sheep claims were reported in 1947 and after sale of dog tags had fallen below normal in the same year.

Sterritt and Ullom plan to continue the check until the entire county has been covered.

AUTOMOBILE DEALER PUT ON PROBATION

Delaware Man Released from Prison After Hearing.

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, O., March 29 — Robert E. Stout, Delaware automobile dealer sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary for a term of from one to five years Feb. 3 after pleading guilty to two counts of fraud, was released from prison and placed on probation for three years Friday by Delaware Common Pleas Judge Fred A. McAllister.

Convicted on charges brought by the state bureau of motor vehicles, acting upon complaints of two Delaware county residents who lost automobiles valued at $5,000 because of Stout's failure to transfer title, his case was reheard in the court after the two injured parties petitioned for leniency and the bureau of motor vehicles offered no objections.

Stout, who became employed in Mt. Vernon after bankruptcy proceedings put him out of business in Delaware, was ordered to go back to his job there and not change employment without the consent of the court. He was also directed to reimburse the two injured parties "so far as possible."

COMMANDERY SERVICE HELD AT EPWORTH

Members of Marion Commandery No. 36, Knights Templar, attended traditional Easter sunrise service yesterday held in Epworth Methodist church. Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor, spoke on "Living Power." The Sir Knights marched to the church from the Masonic temple, to which they returned after the meeting for breakfast, with 246 members of the order and their wives served. Special music at the church service included Easter numbers by the Masonic chorus, and Harold Bradt, who sang a solo. Special organ music was by Miss Maye Evangeline Lawrence, Epworth church organist.

Girls' Quartet Sings At Youth for Christ Rally

Special music at a Marion Youth for Christ rally Saturday night in the Masonic hall included numbers by a girls' quartet composed of Joanne and Mary Lou Milar, Mildred Morris and Doris Schaber, accompanied by Joanne Hough, and a duet by the Milar sisters. Rev. Wallace Ellis of West Jackson led a song service. Dr. C. E. Hershey, director of Marion Youth for Christ, was in charge. Miss Alice Ostrander, missionary to Africa who is home on furlough, gave a testimony and spoke on mission work in the African field. Dr. Hershey played an accordion solo.

A "quiz kid" feature was presented with Miss Betty Gay, nurse at Sawyer Sanatorium, and Miss Avis Kint and Miss Martha Bulen, a technician and a nurse at City hospital, taking part. Dr. Hershey spoke instead of the expected speaker, Rev. Del Fehsenfeld, who was unable to get to Marion because of weather conditions. Comments on Scripture which he read included the following thoughts. "In speaking of the great white throne judgment, if you are truly 'born again' you are not going to be there. Those who come before Jesus Christ at the great white throne judgment, and find their names are not written in the books will be told, "Depart from Me." You get your names in the lamb's book of life by the precious blood of the Lord Jesus Christ. If you will but believe in the shed blood of Christ you will not only have protection but you will live."

At the next meeting of the Youth for Christ, Ken Cummings, who will be remembered as being a member of the Back to God quartet heard here previously will be the speaker. Mrs. Cummings, who is a chalk artist, will accompany him to Marion.

Red Cross and Cancer Gifts Voted by Grange

Contributions of $5 were voted to both the fund campaign of the American Red Cross and the American Cancer Society by Martel Grange at a meeting Tuesday night, March 23, in the Martel school auditorium. Kenneth Pangborn, master, presided for the meeting and one application for membership was voted on. A report was given by Mrs. Ward Sharrock, chairman of the home economics committee, who also announced that a Grange project to furnish cheer cards and the jams and jellies to the Marion City hospital for the month of September. During the lecturer hour, degree team practice was held.

Hen Grabs Spotlight From Easter Bunny

A chicken owned by Massie Ross of 686 North Main street caught the Easter spirit in a big way Saturday.

The hen, one of a flock of 50 New Hampshire Reds, sat down to meditate on the injustice of the Easter rabbit getting all the credit for early spring egg-laying and came up with a whopper of an idea, and forthwith created a whopper of an egg, weighing 6¾ ounces.

It was the biggest egg Massie had ever seen—too big to hide for an egg hunt, too big even to put it all in one Easter-sized basket. So he kept it and is proudly showing it about the Marion Hotel, where he is employed. He hasn't decided what to do with it.

To Tear Hardin Roads Drivers Warned Not

Special to The Star

KENTON—In response to protests from rural residents on county roads that the roads are being "torn to pieces" by large trucks and buses taking short-cuts from regularly marked detour routes, Hardin county Sheriff Randall Clark today issued a warning to drivers of such vehicles that they will be arrested if found off the regular routes.

Sheriff Clark said the drivers would be hailed into court for violating PUCO regulaions.

Traffic is being detoured between Kenton and Findlay on State route 31-U. S. route 68 because of the rebuilding of a six-mile stretch of pavement between Dunkirk and Arlington.

Couple Exchange Marriage Vows At Pastor's Home

THE marriage of Miss Mary Jo Ann Marble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. J. Marble of 422 Forest street and Ray Walker McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. McDonald of east of Marion, took place Saturday morning. Only the immediate families were present for the double ring ceremony read at 10:45 o'clock by Rev. J. B. Holloway, pastor of Trinity Baptist church, in a soft candlelight setting at the parsonage on South Vine street. Bouquets of white stocks, fernery and yellow roses were used at the improvised altar. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Retter, brother-in-law and sister of the bride.

The bride was costumed in a navy blue street-length dress with navy and white accessories and her flowers were a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Retter wore a light pink print dress with which she combined black accessories. Her flowers were gardenias.

The bride's mother was attired in a navy blue suit-dress with burnt orange accessories and Mrs. McDonald wore a suit in a beige shade with brown accessories. Both wore orchid corsages.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Marble were hosts at a dinner and small reception at Greenwood Inn and later the couple left on a wedding trip to New York City. For traveling the bride wore an aqua blue suit with black and white accessories. Upon their return they will live at 444 Forest street.

The bride was graduated from Harding High school and is employed in the office of the Marion Chamber of Commerce. Mr. McDonald attended Harding High school and served 22 months in the U.S. Navy. He has been employed by the Marion Power Shovel Co. since his discharge from service.

School Supervisor Commends Mt. Gilead

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, March 29—"This is an exceptionally good school, continue to improve it," Glenn A. Rich, supervisor of schools of the State Department of Education said following an examination of the Mt. Gilead village school.

"The Mt. Gilead exempted village high school is continued on the list of first grade schools approved by this department," Rich's report continued.

The report specifically commended the school for the following:

Its excellent administration, organization and supervision; strong teaching in all departments; the condition of the building, that is redecoration, hall floor coverings, and janitorial services; use of bulletin boards, room libraries; use of teaching devices and room assignments, splendid attitude of students, and proposed building program.

5 A. M. SUNRISE START

GALION — Despite the fact heavier coats would have been more comfortable, Galion residents defied the weather and shivered in their Easter finery to turn-out for church services. Most churches reported record attendance. There were sunrise services at several churches; the one conducted by Westminster fellowship of First Presbyterian church was unusual. With adults invited the group left Galion at 5 a. m. to conduct services in the state park at Mt. Gilead and later returned to the Galion church for breakfast.

BLOODY WEEKEND IN PALESTINE KILLS 100

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, March 29—Bullets and bombs on a bloody holy weekend killed about 100 persons and wounded 200 throughout Palestine.

By contrast, Jerusalem was quiet this morning. In the Holy city, scene of the Easter story of Christ's resurrection, guns still were silent at midday.

Official reports showed at least 68 persons slain yesterday. Unofficial sources reported a much higher toll. The Jewish militia Haganah tallied 300 Arab casualties. Arabs spoke of heavy Jewish losses.

One Jewish motor convoy was wiped out and another convoy was forced to surrender its arms in two widely separated attacks.

The unofficial tally of violent deaths in the Holy Land stood at 2,193 since the United Nations voted last Nov. 29 to partition the country.

Contends Its Mayor Youngest in Ohio

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., March 29—The nearby town of Butler (population 709) today entered the unofficial youngest-mayor-in-Ohio sweepstakes.

It submitted the name of its mayor, 25year-old Dory R. Swank, contending he was Ohio's youngest official of such rank.

Swank, who works as a watchmaker in Mansfield, was 24 when he became mayor last Jan. 1. He is a navy veteran and the father of two children.

Man Who Fired At Sen. Bricker Dies

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 29—William L. Kaiser, 49, charged with firing two shots at Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) in the capitol subway last July 12, died today at St. Elizabeth's hospital.

Kaiser, of Columbus, was a former capitol policeman. He was charged with assault with intent to kill but was committed to the hospital after being adjudged insane. Authorities said probable cause of death was a heart attack.

Bricker was not hit by the shots.

DEWEY, TAFT AGREE AGAINST DEADLOCK

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 29—Friends of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Senator Robert A. Taft are reported agreed today that they will try to prevent any long deadlock at the GOP nominating convention.

The two presidential aspirants are known to have discussed this situation some time ago. They met briefly in New York recently but had no time then to talk turkey.

Nevertheless, it is said to be generally understood in both camps that if the two candidates lock horns so tightly that neither can pull away, they will sit down and try for a compromise.

None of the politicians who know both men can see either stepping aside for the other. The effort, then, would be to agree on third man acceptable to both and do it quickly enough to prevent a rank outsider from walking off with the nomination.

The two possibilities most frequently mentioned in such a compromise are Senator Arthur Vanderberg of Michigan and house Speaker Joseph Martin of Massachusetts.

Indications are that neither Taft nor Dewey would be willing to go for Gen. Douglas MacArthur even if the far eastern commander shows wide strength in primaries.

The New Yorker and the Ohioan are essentially party men, and the betting is that their support will go to somebody who is well established within the GOP fold.

PASSAGE CERTAIN ON 6-BILLION ERP

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 29—The house starts showdown votes today on the bill to use $6,205,000,000 plus American military science in an effort to stem communism in Europe and China.

Passage is scheduled for Wednesday at the latest. It may come tomorrow night. House leaders say the margin will be at least three to one, with no more than 80 to 100 opposition votes.

As the foreign aid bill started running the gauntlet of amendments, the man who holds the military purse strings in the house jumped to its support as a vital defense measure.

Rep. Albert J. Engel (R-Mich) sized up worsening Soviet-American relations and said he had reached the conclusion that:

The United States must "make reasonable military preparations."

The prewar military power of friendly nations must be restored, within 5, 10 or 20 years, he added, so that "added to our own it will spell defeat of any nations which dares to threaten the free government of any other nation."

Ontario Police Seek Consul's Assailant

By The Associated Press

WINDSOR, Ont., March 29—Ontario provincial police sought clues today to the assailant who fired two gunshots last night at John Bankhead, American consul here.

Bankhead said the shots, apparently fired from behind a tree, struck the rear door of his car as he drove up to his Riverside drive home. He was alone in the car.

It was the third attempt on his life in recent weeks, Bankhead said.

The American consul has come to attention for his tight border restriction policy. He has attributed this to an effort to keep Communists from entering the United States by way of Detroit.

CONFERENCE OPENS TUESDAY

By The Associated Press

BOGOTA, Colombia, March 29—The top-ranking diplomats of 21 nations assembled here today for tomorrow's opening of the ninth Pan-American conference. Territorial disputes threatened to loom high on the program. Secretary of State George C. Marshall is slated to arrive about noon. His plane left Washington at 9:02 last night.

Three Auto Accidents Reported by Patrol

Three automobile accidents over Easter weekend resulted in property damage only, the state highway patrol reported today.

An accident involving a car driven by Lester Nix of Akron, which might have ended in tragedy, resulted in extensive damage to the vehicle when it overturned on a curve at 5:45 a. m. Sunday, 11 miles north of Mt. Gilead on route 42. Mr. Nix escaped unscathed when the vehicle went out of control.

At 6:35 p. m. Sunday a car driven by Ernest Stern of near Perry and one driven by Delbert Houk of 350 Mary street collided on route 4 with slight damage to both vehicles.

Saturday at 5:20 p. m. cars driven by Samuel Smith of Prospect and Mildred Lawson of 207 South State street collided when the Smith car pulled from a gas station on route 4 and the Lawson car was going north.

MacArthur Puts Ban On Strikes in Japan

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, March 29 — General MacArthur invoked a general strike ban today to halt rapidly spreading walkouts by Japanese government workers.

He specifically instructed Japanese officials to prevent a threatened strike by an estimated 400,000 communications employes. They spearheaded a quit work movement by nearly 1,000,000 government workers.

ASK END OF TALKS ON RUSS ATOMIC BAN

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, March 29—Britain, China, France and Canada demanded today that atomic delegates break off talks on Russia's scheme to prohibit atomic bombs.

The four nations declared a mere convention banning bombs, would, without world controls, help an aggressor nation gain overwhelming military supremacy and would mislead public opinion into a feeling of false security. They denounced the whole of Russia's atomic proposals as inadequate and unrealistic.

The four countries put a resolution before the working committee of the United Nations atomic energy commission calling for rejection of the Russian proposals as they stand now. They asked the committee to declare there is no purpose in discussing them further.

Delegates from the four countries said the resolution does not constitute a final and formal break with Russia on the whole atomic control problem. They said they are ready to discuss new Soviet proposals but they do not want to go over the same ground again and again.

The United States did not join in the statement of the four countries but informed sources predicted the U. S would support it.

Authoritative sources said the four nations were laying the groundwork for a full debate on atomic energy in the 1948 United Nations assembly meeting in Paris this fall. These sources added that the four nations feel it is time for the assembly to attempt to end the deadlock by its moral persuasion.

Ask Tax Referendum At Columbus Primary

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 29—The Columbus CIO council asked the Ohio Supreme Court today to conduct a referendum on the new pay-roll-income tax at the May 4 primary.

A special election on the tax of one-half of one per cent has been set up for June 8.

The CIO contended the cost of submitting the tax issue at the May 4 election would be "negligible," whereas a special election on June 8 would cost approximately $20,000.

The court took the request under advisement.

Killed Just Before Leaving Rail Work

By The Associated Press

BELLEFONTAINE, O., March 29—Fifteen minutes before he was to go off duty, Victor V. Reed, 51, stumbled in the New York Central yards and was struck and killed by a backing switch engine yesterday.

Reed, a yard conductor, was a well-known shooter in the annual National rifle matches at Camp Perry.

Most of My Customers Pay Me Every Saturday

But if you don't pay me, I have to pay for your paper, and I lose the profit on several papers that I have delivered to pay for your copy.

I am the sole judge of whom to extend credit to.

I am a little business man operating my own business. I buy my papers at wholesale, paying for them each week, and sell them at retail, to you, the difference is my profit and working capital.

I collect each Saturday morning, so if you will pay me at that time, not make me call back and back, you will keep me from becoming discouraged in my first business enterprise.

Thanks

Many Other Features You Should See

No matter what price Frigidaire range you select you will get a big Even-Heat oven and 5-speed Radiantube surface units. The model illustrated includes automatic oven control and an automatic time signal. The deluxe model has two ovens.

Frigidaire Refrigerators, Electric Ranges, Electric Water Heaters, and Fully Automatic Washers are still hard to get. They will be still scarcer as the warm weather draws nearer due to a four year unfilled demand, shortage of steel, and other critical materials, and many other causes. But, Schaffner's have them now—IT HAPPENED THIS WAY.

As we are one of the largest Frididaire Dealers in the northern half of Ohio our monthly allotments are large. This is due to our past selling performance, and the fine acceptance of Frigidaire products in Marion (That's why so many of your friends could get Frigidaires when apparently other appliances were hard to secure) This month, in order to take care of our many friends and old customers, we purchased enough extra units to make up a solid car. That's a break for all who need a new Frigidaire Refrigerator—but it will require quick action.

You are buying the finest appliance when you choose the FRIGIDAIRE REFRIGERATOR — ELECTRIC RANGE — ELECTRIC WATER HEATER — FULLY AUTOMATIC WASHER.

BUY NOW DELIVER LATER IF YOU WISH — Even though we have large quantities now, they will melt away like the April snow. The demand is far from satisfied and many old obsolete refrigerators in Marion are breaking down every day. So, if you want later delivery, make a small deposit and make your terms on delivery. That way you will be sure when the weather starts steaming.

MT. GILEAD HIRES FIRM

MT. GILEAD — The Mt. Gilead village council at a special meeting hired the engineering firm of Finkbine, Pettis and Strout of Toledo to make an estimate of the cost of installing a water purification and softening system at the Mt. Gilead village municipal water works. The firm was hired at a cost of $400 and will complete the estimate in 90 days.

Mayor Ray Bennington announced the following appointments to the village recreation board: L. C. Dye, D. L. Musselman, Al Wallace, Bob Gladden and Dick Denton. The appointments are effective immediately, Bennington said.

Special Services Close At Calvary Church

Final service of revival meetings at Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church was held Sunday night. It was reported that attendance throughout the two-week effort was good, and that several persons answered the altar call at various times. At morning and evening services Sunday, special music was by the Adult choir and the Men's chorus of the church, and Rev. W. L. Mullet of Walhonding, the evangelist, sang. Mrs. J. W. Baker presided at the organ and Mrs. Fred Dutt at the piano each night, and Rev. Mullet led song services. His messages Sunday placed emphasis on Easter and Pentecost.

"The resurrection is the crowning event of Christian thought and doctrine. One thing sure is that we have one of the greatest challenges that God gives to any people of any day. We do have a deliverance. God is calling us. Our greatest danger today is that we may become so engrossed in sin that we shall lose the goal and purpose for which Christ died and rose again. In speaking of Pentecost, you can not leave Pentecost out of the picture and have a perfect picture. If Christ is not real in your heart, then Calvary means nothing to you."

STEEL CIRCLES GET MILITARY QUERIES

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 29—Steel circles already have noted progress in laying the groundwork for renewed military demand on their products, the magazine Steel said today.

"Though to date there has been little new military buying," the magazine said, "some 'feeler' inquiries for armor plate, alloy and special steels and shell steel have been received. * * *

"Heavy procurement programs of the armed services are likely for the next fiscal year, with production for military needs being stimulated before that period begins July 1."

Turning to current production, steel predicted a sharp drop in ingot output to 60 per cent if the coal mine tieup continues for another two weeks. Ingot rate last week was estimated at 93½ per cent.

"Effect of the coal strike on pig iron," it said, "is reflected in practically all producing centers with furnaces either being banked or blown out, or operated on reduced draft.

"Open-hearth furnace operations have not been as severely hit as coke or pig iron."

Steel said informed circles in Washington gave compulsory price and allocation controls in the industry about an even chance.

"Government allocation of steel and other critical materials, as well as price controls, are said to be a likely possibility as defense demands exert increasing pressure on the economy," the magazine said.

TO REPLACE RAILS

BUCYRUS — Replacement of both both east and west bound tracks is to be started in Bucyrus April 1 by the Pennsylvania railroad company.

Board Holding Ditch Petition Hearing

Marion county commissioners today were conducting the first hearing on a petition to clean out approximately seven miles of the Little Scioto river in Marion and Grand Prairie townships.

Petition for the improvement was filed with the commissioners by Richard A. Church, farmer, of near Marion.

More than 50 landholders, both for and against the granting of the project appeared for the hearing conducted for want of space in the commissioners' office, in the common pleas courtroom.

Section of the Little Scioto involved in the petition extends from the bridge on county road 94 about a mile north of route 30-S north to a point near the bridge on county road 67 in Grand Prairie township.

Amendments extending the project south in Marion township may be filed on the original petition at a later date if the first petition is approved by the commissioners.

THE NEW FERGUSON TRACTOR

Beginning... another great era in power farming!

A Great New Farming Machine to help you cut the costs of food production still more! A powerful, rugged tractor with many new high-performance features designed from the experiences of over 300,000 Ferguson System users. Stepped-up power lets you walk away with two 14-inch plows—with reserve for the tough spots. You can brake both wheels with a single pedal, or use the individual brake pedals for turning. And many other improvements for greater safety, economy and convenience.

A Motor on Fuel Powerful Continental valve-in-head engine, combined with the weight-saving and automatic traction control of the Ferguson System, gives you more work from a gallon of fuel than you ever dreamed possible! High-torque design to give you amazing lugging power at low engine speeds. Responsive governor, fully enclosed from dust and dirt. High-efficiency cooling fan and removable "wet" sleeves with full-length water distribution. An engine built to "take it!"

A New System for Low-Cost Hauling with revolutionary method of linking trailer to tractor. With this new Ferguson System of transportation you can haul loads of 3 tons or more out of soft fields, up steep grades, on slippery roads or over rough ground. On crowded farms, located at average local market distances, this latest Ferguson invention slashes costs of hauling farm products—a revolutionary new solution to your farm transportation problems.

Only the Ferguson System, invented, perfected and patented by Harry Ferguson, and authorized only for use in the new Ferguson Tractor, gives you all five of these big advantages: 1. Penetration without excessive implement weight. 2. Both finger tip and automatic hydraulic depth control. 3. Traction without excessive built-in weight. 4. Keeps the tractor's front end down. 5. Automatically protects both implement and tractor when the implement strikes an obstruction.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

I SMILED to myself as I heard Dicky's florid invitation to 'K' and comradeship between Georges and Dr 'K.' He purposely was investing the preliminaries of his interview with the fugitive king of Trees with a nuance of burlesque.

Then I stiffened in alarm. Surely he did not mean that Mr 'K' should be present at the [illegible] conference! The FBI [illegible] every time you talk. You have [illegible] me that this conference does not concern any of the Chief's [illegible] I am engaged.

'That's true,' Dicky said [illegible] Georges's [illegible] asked me that it be a private conference, personal in its nature, but I do not object.

He left the question up in the air, and when Georges spoke to [illegible] uncertainly, I knew that his [illegible] attitude toward the FBI operative was battling with his desire for a second auditor to his eloquent periods.

"That is all up to you, Mr. Graham," he said. "I have no objection to Mr K's being present, if you think it best."

But I have" the FBI man said in decision. "I have enough on my mind with the Chief's work without sitting in on a personal conflict. So, with your permission — I could see the sardonic smile he gave Dicky— I will remove myself," as my West Indian nurse used to say, 'from this room to the corridor. I'll be just outside the door if you need me. Good morning."

The door closed on the last words, and then Georges spoke querulously.

Why did he say that?" he asked. 'Why should he think that you might need him?"

Dicky gave him a condescending—and irritating—smile.

'That's just a stock speech of his," he said. "'K' always uses it when he leaves anybody. You see he gets so used to standing on guard, revolver and knife within easy snatching distance if anybody calls for help, that he cannot help using the phrase. It's second nature to him.

"Of course, it might come in handy," he went on, with a wide disarming grin at Georges, "if you should decide I needed drawing and quartering. But I don't think our conference will come to that. Sit down, Lad, in that chair opposite. We can talk better sitting."

Georges obeyed him, and Dicky lowered himself into an easy chair opposite. I was surprised at my husband's apparently cordial attitude, for I had listened with pleasure to the outburst of protective instincts which he had uncoiled to the royal playboy when I had informed him of Georges' fantastic theory concerning Mary. I had not quite expected him to box the royal ears as soon as he and Georges were alone together, and I had not expected this almost comradely atmosphere.

Then I realized what Dicky was doing. He wanted to draw Georges out, to get the royal egoist to empty his consciousness of any thought about Mary lurking within it before her uncle should begin answering him.

He could not do that by frightening or antagonizing Georges before he should begin to speak, so he was provoking an atmosphere of what he himself sardonically would term "sweetness and light." I lifted my hand in a silent admiring tribute to his self-restraint, as he went on in friendly fashion.

"That's better," he said. "Now, what's on your mind?"

RITES FOR BUCYRIAN

BUCYRUS—Funeral services were conducted today in the Munz Funeral home for William Vollmer, 68, retired New York Central railroad shop employe, who died Friday night of infirmities at his home. A native of Germany he had lived here since 1882. Survivors are seven children and three grandchildren. His wife died a year ago. Burial was made in Oakwood cemetery.

279 Head of Sheep Offered in Ashley Pool

Two hundred and seventy-nine head of sheep and lambs were consigned to the Ashley lamb pool by 16 farmers on Thursday.

Three of these lambs graded double blue and sold for $[illegible] cwt. Forty-five graded blue and sold for $21 cwt. Both of these lots of lambs were clipped. The red clipped lambs sold for $20.75 and yellow for $19.

The blue wool lambs sold for $21 and yellow for $19.50. There were no red wool lambs offered.

There are two more pools on the schedule for this season and the next one will be on Thursday, April 8. Farmers desiring farm inspection may call the stock yards or leave word at the extension office in their county.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

Mrs. Lyddie Thatcher

Mrs. Lyddie Thatcher, 70, a resident of 467 Blaine avenue died at 10:15 a. m. Sunday in City hospital. March 10, she suffered a fracture of her left hip in a fall at home.

Born March 9, 1878, in Marion county, she was a daughter of [illegible] and Caroline Neidhart Reinhardt, the father a native of Germany and the mother of Marion county. In November, 1900, she married Frank G. Thatcher in Marion county. He died June 1, 1944, in Marion. Mrs. Thatcher was a member of First Evangelical and Reformed church and of the Ladies' Bible class of the church.

Survivors are a sister and a brother, Mrs. J. J. Munsell of Columbus and John Reichardt of Marion, and nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the Scaffner-Denzer funeral home on East Center street by Rev. E. G. Worth of First Evangelical and Reformed church. Burial will be in Forest Glen Memorial park. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mrs. Melvina Neiderhauser

Mrs. Melvina Neiderhauser of Nevada, O., sister of a Marion resident, died at 1:15 p. m. Friday in Grant hospital in Columbus of complications following an operation. She had been in failing health for three years and seriously ill for one week.

She was born in Pitt township, Wyandot county, to William and Maud Iams Cochran. Surviving are her husband, Elza, two sons, Glen, at home, and Richard of Nevada, three grandchildren, and three brothers, Homer L. Cochran of 187 Hane avenue, Marion, John Cochran of Lima, and Lehr Cochran of Portland, Ore.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Emanuel church in Nevada by Rev. F. W. Hoffman, assisted by Rev. C. E. Powell of Bucyrus. Burial will be made in Oak Hill cemetery. Friends may call at the J. T. Lucas funeral home in Upper Sandusky until 1 o'clock Tuesday when the body will be removed to the church.

William R. Grebe

GALION—After an illness of 10 months, death claimed William R. Grebe, 44, a well known resident of this vicinity, at 4 p. m. Saturday at his home on the Dawsett road. Complications followed surgery he had undergone several months ago.

A native of Ashland, Mr. Grebe was born Jan. 16, 1904, the son of William H. and Josephine Meiser Grebe. He was married Sept. 12, 1933 to Mamie Stine of Galion who survives.

Besides his widow, he leaves his mother, Mrs. Josephine Grebe of Galion; three brothers, Earl C. Grebe of Toledo, Harold H. of Warren, and George of Los Angeles, Calif.

Mr. Grebe had lived in Galion for 35 years. He had a natural talent for public speaking, was active politically for the Democratic party, and several years ago was an auctioneer. Fraternally, he was a member of Elks' lodge of Mansfield. He had been employed in Mansfield prior to his illness as construction superintendent for the Daumitt Construction company. He was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic church of Galion.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 9 a. m., in St. Patrick's church, with Rev. Father William J. Killoran in charge. Burial will be made in Mt. Calvary cemetery here. Friends may call at the Snyder funeral home.

Mrs. Addie Dumbaugh

MT. GILEAD — Mrs. Addie Dumbaugh, 67, wife of Frank Dumbaugh of Mt. Gilead, died of a heart ailment Saturday at their home. She had been ill one year.

Surviving are the husband and five sons, Clarence Dumbaugh of Fredericktown, Richard of Columbus, Eugene, Marshall and Philip of Mt. Gilead, and six grandchildren. Mrs. Dumbaugh was a sister of Mrs. Minnie McDonald of 481 South Prospect street.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the home and burial will be made in River Cliff cemetery. Rev. Ray McMillan of Johnstown, formerly of Mt. Gilead, will officiate.

Cecil O. Somerlot

RICHWOOD—Cecil O. Somerlot, 53, of Richwood, died of a heart attack at 7:45 a. m. Sunday at the home of a brother, Carl E. Somerlot in Richwood. He had been in ill health four months.

Born Aug. 21, 1894, in Green Camp, he was a son of William Somerlot and Susan Cummins Somerlot. He was a salesman for the John Deere Co.

He is survived by two sons, Jack Somerlot and Richard Somerlot, both of East Church street, Marion, a brother, Carl E. Somerlot, at whose home he died, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Hedges of Prospect.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Winter funeral chapel by Rev. Edward Brewster, pastor of the Richwood First Methodist church. Burial will be in Prospect. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mrs. Susan Almendinger

PROSPECT—Mrs. Susan Almendinger, 81, died at 1 a. m. today at her home in Prospect following an illness of eight days.

She was born Oct. 4, 1866, to Phillip Bender and Caroline Benzler Bender, both natives of Marion county. Her husband, Phillip Almendinger, died a number of years ago. She was a member of the Prospect St. Paul Lutheran church and the Missionary Aid society of that church.

Only survivors are a number of nieces and nephews. A son, Lester, preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the St. Paul Lutheran church by the pastor, Rev. Paul E. Doberstein. Burial will be in the Prospect cemetery. Friends may call at the Edwin K. Powell funeral home after 7 o'clock tonight.

Mrs. Anna G. Wieland

MT. GILEAD — Mrs. Anna Goorley Wieland, widow of Dr. Frank Wieland, Chicago, physician, died in her home here at 8:15 p. m. Sunday. She had been ill several months. Born in Mt. Gilead, she was a daughter of D. T. A. Goorley and Ruth Lucy Newson Goorley. Her husband died in 1934 in Chicago. She returned to Mt. Gilead in 1935. Surviving are sisters, Mrs. Metta McMillin and Mrs. Grace Haynes, both of Mt. Gilead. Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. in the Craven funeral home by Dr. H. G. Finney of the Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Rivercliff cemetery.

Mrs. Blanche M. Oborn

RICHWOOD—Mrs. Blanche M. Oborn, 74, of LaRue, died at 4:15 p. m. Saturday at the home of a sister, Mrs. Cleo Secord in LaRue. She has been in ill health for the last five months.

Born Aug. 31, 1873, in LaRue, she was a daughter of John Hastings and Americus Gillespie Hastings, the father a native of Hardin county and the mother of Marion county. Her husband, Walter Oborn, whom she married Dec. 24, 1893, in Marion county, died in 1939. She was a member of the First Baptist church in Richwood. A resident of LaRue since 1941, she had resided on a farm west of Richwood for 30 years prior to that time.

Surviving with the sister at whose home she died is a foster-daughter, Mrs. Kathleen McAninch of Marion.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Hastings funeral home by Rev. Donald Hobbs of the First Baptist church. Burial will be in Kenton. Friends may call at the funeral home.

BRITISH MOVE CLOSER TO YUGOSLAV BORDER. Three British soldiers set up machine gun position as British move closer to border line between British-American and Yugoslav zones in Free Territory of Trieste. Maj. Gen. Terence S. Airey, British chief of civil affairs officer, said British soldiers were being advanced to the frontier as a precaution. Britain, France and U. S. have proposed return of all Free Territory to Italy.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 29—Leading stocks shifted over a slightly uneven route in today's market.

Both the Stock Exchange and Curb maintained operations despite the financial employes' strike although services were restricted in some cases. Suspension of the quotation bureau resulted in numerous bid and asked figures being printed on the ticker tape.

Dealings were quiet from the start. Variations mainly were in fractioners near midday.

Ahead at intervals were Gulf Oil, Chesapeake & Ohio, General Motors, Deere, Boeing, United Aircraft, Kennecott, Du Pont, Warner Bros. and Twentieth Century-Fox.

Occasional laggards included Bethlehem Steel, Republic Steel, Chrysler, Woolworth, Douglas Aircraft, Pepsi-Cola, International Paper, Eastman Kodak, Phelps Dodge, Southern Pacific, Great Northern Railway and Standard Oil (NJ).

Wes Fesler Expects 100 Candidates For Opening of OSU Spring Football Drills

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 29—Head Coach Wes Fesler expected to count over 100 candidates when Ohio State university opened six weeks of spring football practice today.

In starting his second year here, Fesler hoped for a better showing than 1947, when the Buckeyes registered only two victories in a nine-game schedule. However, he hardly predicted a Big Nine title and a Rose Bowl trip.

"We'll be better than last year," he said, "but still not a great team."

Ohio State lost three first-stringers—Capt. Bob Jabbusch, a guard; center Howard Duncan and end Jimmy Crane—by graduation. Then backfield stars Ollie Cline, Bob Brugge and Dean Sensanbaugher gave up another year of eligibility to sign with the professional Cleveland Browns.

Frosh Not Too Good

Last fall's freshman team was no world beater, either.

Fesler figures underclassmen who saw action last season should—by the normal course of events—be improved. Several former lettermen who weren't around last season—players like end Tom Watson, fullback Chuck Gandee and halfbacks Jerry Krall and "Duck" Marshall—will seek 1948 berths.

There also are a few highly-rated freshman prospects (they'll be sophomores by fall). This includes ball-toters Karl Sturtz, Coshocton's All-Ohio high school star; 195-pound Park Blubaugh of Lima, Bob Wright of Greenville, and Al Grammer of Dayton; guard Jerry Manz of Toledo, end Sonny Gandee of Akron, center Ronnie Wulf of Ludlow, Ky., and tackle Bill Trautwein. Trautwein, a six-foot four-inch, 235-pounder, is the son of Ohio university coach Dutch Trautwein.

Line Stacks Up Well

The line—last season's weak point—stacks up fairly well, with Capt. Dave Templeton at guard showing the way. The backfield is the big question mark.

Joe Whisler is the No. 1 fullback and Pandel Savic, last year's starter, quarterback in the early lineup. Krall and Sturtz will try to edge experienced hands like Mike Cannavino, Rod Swinehart and Jimmy Clark at left half. Dick Slager, a converted quarterback, also will work out there. Blubaugh will try for right half against veterans Bob Demmel and Bob Newell.

Two other experienced backfielders, punter and quarterback Pete Perini and halfback Alex Verdova, are passing up the spring drills for baseball.

For the first two weeks, Fesler plans five drills weekly. After that, he will toss in Saturday scrimmages. The annual intra-squad game May 8 winds up spring practice.

CHANDLER DONS A UNIFORM. Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler (right) chats with Connie Mack, Philadelphia Athletics manager, after Chandler donned a uniform and worked out with the Athletics in West Palm Beach, Fla. MICHIGAN SWIMMERS WIN

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Michigan won NCAA swimming championship without taking a single first place, getting 47 points from seconds and thirds. Ohio State, winner the last three years, was second with 41. Joe Verdeur, LaSalle, did the 200-yard breaststroke in 2:14.7 to lower his world record of 2:16.4. He was named "outstanding swimmer of 1948."

St. Mary's Class B Tourney Cut $300

Marion St. Mary received $300 for playing four games in the Central district class B basketball tournament in Westerville, tournament manager Harry Ewing announced.

Each class B school earned $75 a game.

The class A schools, playing to a larger "house" and with fewer of them entered to split the take, each earned $195.72 a game.

OILERS, KENTUCKY FAVORED TONIGHT

By The United Press

NEW YORK, March 29—Vince Boryla, a Notre Dame star both past and future, limped badly today—and hobbling along with him were Denver's fading chances of upsetting the Phillips Oilers in the semi-finals of the Olympic basketball tournament tonight.

Heavily-favored Kentucky faces Baylor in the other semi-final.

Boryla wrenched his knee in the final seconds of play Saturday after he scored 21 points in Denver's 57-55 first round conquest of the Oakland, Cal. Bittners.

Without him, the Nuggets from the Rocky Mountains are lost. And Boryla, who left Notre Dame to join the Army and now is headed back for South Bend following his itch, seemed in no condition to play today. "The knee bothers me quite a bit," he said, "I don't think I'll be able to make it."

With or without Boryla in there, the Oilers rule an overwhelming choice to win the tournament championship in the finals Wednesday night at Madison Square Garden. Even though the AAU champs were far from perfect in romping over the Prospect Park Y.M.C.A. champions from Brooklyn, 74-32, Saturday, their height and polish appears too much for even Kentucky's NCAA titleholders.

The Kentucky-Baylor game tonight serves as a repeat of the NCAA final, and the result will be the same, if you take the word of the betting boys.

Cardington Baseball Club To Organize

The Cardington Merchants baseball club will hold their first practice Sunday afternoon April 4 on the school athletic field.

Earny Stevens, manager of the team, asked that all former members of the team and any other players who want to try out, be present at 2 p. m. If the weather or grounds is not fit, a meeting will be held at the Francis pool room to organize.

Lights were installed in time last fall for night football and night baseball will probably be played this summer along with Sunday afternoon games.

MIAMI TOURNEY SITE

Cliff Mapes Is Triple Threater Of N. Y. Yankees

By OSCAR FRALEY
UP Sports Writer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 29—California Cliff Mapes is rated today as the baseball triple threat man of the New York Yankee spring training camp.

The powerful rookie outfielder is:

1. Johnny Lindell's bonfire.
2. Tommy Henrich's insurance.
3. Joe DiMaggio's understudy.

Which means that even if the ailing Charley Keller comes through this season, the burly Mapes is going to see a lot of action while doing a terrific morale job.

By trade a center fielder, the quiet gardener must yield there to Di Mag. But he's a definite threat in left to both Lindell and Keller and is a safety stop in right for Henrich.

Keller Lacks Drive

Keller, victim last season of a spinal injury, still lacks the straightaway drive to reclaim his old post. So Lindell, who stepped in finally as a regular and was one of the world series stars, might possibly have coasted along as a cinch bet.

But Mapes has been keeping the happy-go-lucky and slightly irresponsible Johnny right up on the tips of his toes. That alone makes Mapes very valuable. For Lindell has all the attributes of a great ball player lacking only the drive to propel his powerful six feet, four inches to Yankee stadium stardom.

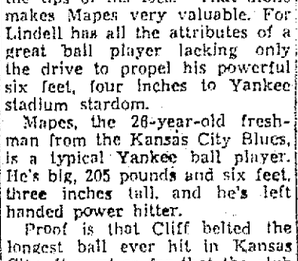
Mapes, the 26-year-old freshman from the Kansas City Blues, is a typical Yankee ball player. He's big, 205 pounds and six feet, three inches tall, and he's left handed power hitter.

Proof is that Cliff belted the longest ball ever hit in Kansas City. It went so far that the club advertised in the local newspapers and awarded a pass to a motorist who brought in the ball and marked the spot where he found it. Reports on the distance vary from 450 to 470 feet but there is complete agreement that the ball was well walloped.

The Yankees obtained the big fellow two years ago, drafting him from Baltimore and right out of the hands of the Cleveland Indians. He had hit only .260 but came along so fast at Kansas City that his name is being painted on a locker at the stadium.

Last season this retiring, Jack Lustre lad who does his bragging with his bat blasted the ball at a .308 clip. But the real value of that average can be appreciated only when you consider that he had 60 extra base hits and led the Association with 117 runs batted in.

Now he's out there at the Yankee camp giving it a whale of a pitch saying little but doing much with a fierce concentration. And if one of the three—even the great DiMaggio—ever sits back on the bench and lets him take over they might find it quite a chore to get him out again.



TROUT GOES ROUTE

By The United Press

LAKELAND, Fla., March 29—Paul (Dizzy) Trout, Detroit Tiger fastball ace, proved to Manager Steve O'Neill today that he was ready for the start of the American league season after becoming the first major league pitcher to hurl nine innings in the Grapefruit league.

Trout, in beating the New York Yankees 7 to 1, yielded only four hits and was robbed of a shutout when Joe DiMaggio homered with two out in the ninth inning.

Bowler Wins Singles And All-Events Title

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 29—Orland Grable of Mansfield is the 1948 Ohio Bowling association's single and all-events champion.

Grable's 682 singles and 1,886 all-events scores stood up under final firing in the six-week-old tournament yesterday.

Gilcher Lumber of Barberton grabbed top honors in team competition with 3004 pins, 30 more than the second place Louis Vargas, Cleveland.

Parker Mattison and Harvey Strabler of Toledo won the doubles with 1248. Salem's O'Keefe Colony Inn carried off the five-man booster title with 2728.

TEAM SMASHES 3002 TO TAKE ABC LEAD

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, March 29 — New leaders ruled in two events of the American Bowling Congress today after some hefty pin spilling, including the tourney's first 3000 team aggregate.

The Cavoli Restaurant five of Cleveland smashed out a 3002 to jump into the team lead last night.

Fine as it was, the Cavoli performance failed to take any of the shine off an earlier 1328 job with which William Wilkas and Joe Romano of Amsterdam, N. Y., took the doubles lead.

Cy Young, Greatest Pitcher In Baseball, Is 81 Today

By The Associated Press

NEWCOMERSTOWN, O., March 29—Denton T. (Cy) Young, who won more games than any other major league baseball pitcher, was 81 today.

He spent the day quietly on his 80-acre farm, puffing on a corn cob pipe and helping with the chores.

His friends wanted to throw another celebration like the day-long affair last year. But the greatest pitcher of them all said no.

"Not this time," Cy said. "If I'm still kicking around four or five years from now, a little party might be all right. But let's skip this one."

Cy was happy to talk baseball, however. No, he said, he didn't expect his record of winning 511 major league games ever would be broken.

"Pitchers today don't work as often, or as long, as we did," he explained.

The peerless righthander keeps abreast baseball listening to the radio and having friends read newspaper accounts to him. Cy has trouble with his eyesight. He feels fit otherwise, though.

"I can still do my work," he said. "I feel good and I sleep good. But I'm slipping a little, for I can't see very well."

That faulty vision keeps Young from driving the new car his admirers gave him a year ago. But he still plays cards with the neighbors.

Cy was in the majors 22 years. He pitched in 874 games, and lost only 363. Three times he tossed no-hitters, and once hurled 22 straight no-hit innings. For 14 straight seasons he won 20 games or more and in a four-year span from 1892 to 1895 won 130 games with seasons of 36, 34, 25 and 35.

Nobody ever has come close to that astonishing performance. Nobody probably ever will. For Cy Youngs—like Babe Ruths—are "one of a kind."

Virgil Stallcup Lands Red Shortstop Spot

By The Associated Press

TAMPA, Fla., March 29—Manager Johnny Neun of the Cincinnati Reds calls the play of Virgil (Red) Stallcup "sensational" and said the Jersey City rookie is "my shortstop."

Neun, who last week would mention only outfielder Frankie Baumholtz as a regular, said:

"Red Stallcup is my shortstop and you can't emphasize that strongly enough."

The Reds, riding a three-game win streak, prepared today to try for a third successive victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. Cincinnati won both previous encounters by the same score, 3-2.

Ewell (The Whip) Blackwell demonstrated his prowess yesterday. He gave only two hits to the Boston Braves in six innings, and the Reds won 3 to 1. Howard Fox was clipped for five hits in his three innings and gave up the lone Brave run in the ninth.

The Reds now have won 10 lost 9 in Grapefruit league play.

60 IN TRI-STATE TOURNEY

By The Associated Press

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., March 29 — Defending champion Westminster (Pa.) college and the Bowling Green university Falcons, recent entrant in New York's National Invitation tournament, topped a list of 60 college and independent teams entered in the 23rd annual tri-state basketball tourney opening here tonight.

Sports Chatter On This and That

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., March 29—There, at the head table, sat Supt. William F. Amrine of London prison farm.

At his left sat Warden Ralph W. Alvis of Ohio penitentiary.

At his right sat a white-haired, soft-spoken, denim-garbed convict, in the 21st year of a life term for first degree murder.

At tables to the right and left were some 60 guests, many accompanied by their wives and children.

And out front, some seated alongside the guests, were nearly 100 boxers, wrestlers, basketball and baseball players—all convicts, of practically every color and creed, serving time for felonies of all kinds.

THAT WAS THE setting Saturday night, of the most unusual, and most impressive, sports banquet we have attended in a quarter-century of such affairs running through the civic, high school college, national A.A.U. and professional fields.

It was the annual banquet, inside the prison, for the "Amrine Angels" the convict athletes of London prison farm.

The white-haired convict besides Amrine was master of ceremonies. Not only that, he greeted each of the guests at the administration building's front door, escorted them to the superintendent's office where he personally introduced the folks from "outside" to each other.

THE MEAL itself was a revelation. Beef from the farm's own herd; milk and butter from its dairies; vegetables from its gardens; homemade ice cream; plenty of everything.

Amrine was the first speaker—and in a simple talk he thanked the inmates for their sportsmanship, their cooperation with the authorities, and pledged that the far-flung athletic program would be continued so long as he had anything to do with the institution.

Alvis was next, and he drew a round of cheers when he announced he and Amrine had arranged to resume the "World Series" in softball this summer between the prison farm and the penitentiary.

Then the athletes, the umpires and the referees were introduced, the athletes getting ovations and the arbiters the traditional "boos."

THE REST OF us at the speakers' table said a few words—the same kind of talks we give to the high school and college kids—and the program wound up with a showing of the Cleveland Browns' football films.

It was around 11 p. m. when the inmate-toastmaster called a halt. As we rose we turned to Amrine and asked:

"Don't you have a certain time the inmates must be in bed?"

"Not tonight," he answered. "This is their night and they've earned this privilege."

We walked, with our wives, out to our cars, convinced more than ever that sports, wherever found, are the great leveler—the place where everyone meets on common ground.

Local Golden Glove Winners Leave Today To Fight in State A. A. U. Tourney at Toledo

Tonight marks the opening of competition in the state A.A.U. boxing tournament being staged in the Sports Arena in Toledo.

Eight champions from the local Golden Gloves matches will journey to Toledo to participate in the higher class slugfest. They were scheduled to leave from the Y.M.C.A. at 1 p. m. today in order to be weighed-in and matched before fight time tonight, Joe Yannitell, Y's Men's chairman said.

Among the survivors of the Marion tournament making the trip are Pat Paterson, 178, heavyweight, of Delaware; Salvadore Modrino, 156½, light heavyweight, of Galion; Charles Farina, 159½, middleweight, of Galion; Jack Sekinger, 142, welterweight, of Marion; Joe Neidig, 134½, lightweight, of Byhalia; Lawrence Strahm, 126, featherweight, of Carey; Bill Galland, 114, bantamweight, of Galion; and Al Treisch, 102½, flyweight, of Galion.

The champions will make the trip to Toledo in cars furnished by trainers, referees and officials of the Y's Men's club and will stay overnight in that city, Yannitell said.

Approximately 32 bouts will be run off tonight and 20 or more tomorrow. Local contenders are conceded a good chance to win a couple bouts in the state matches, according to promotor Jimmy Williams.

Sulky Folk Start Big Campaign In West This Week

By The Associated Press

ARCADIA, Calif., March 29—The indefatigable harness racing people start their 1948 campaign here this week, and what a season lies ahead.

First stop is a 35-day meeting at Santa Anita park, and by the time the season winds up next October in Aurora, Ill., $2,000,000 will have been collected by the pacers an trotters in purses.

This 29-week tour of the Grand Circuit offers approximately $500,000 more than last year's record prize money.

The real pot of gold won't be waiting at the end of the rainbow trail, however—it's here at the start of the cross country trek.

The Western Harness Racing association, which is the far west's anchor of the Grand Circuit, will put $500,000 in purses, topped by the $50,000 Golden West trot and the companion feature for the pacers, at the same fat fifty grand.

Some 400 standardbred horses are in competition on the swing, and the harness folk, never shy in boosting their brand of horse racing, think it will be the most successful season in the history of their sport.

California, incidentally, has no monopoly on rich purses for the sulky crowd. The traditional Hambletonian, premier event for three-year-old trotters, will pay off around $62,000 when it is held at Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 11.

The Kentucky Futurity, 56th edition, at Lexington, will be worth more than $50,000, and the same goes for the famous Little Brown Jug, for pacers, at Delaware, O. in September.

The Santa Anita meet, which opens Friday, offers two $10,000 fixtures—the Hopeful Pace and the Hopeful Trot. Both are viewed as previews of the Hambletonian and Little Brown Jug events.

All told, the sulky pullers will race in 15 tracks in 14 cities this year.

Who said harness racing was a county fair sport?

TRIBE RAPS 3 HOME RUNS TO WHIP CUBS

By The Associated Press

TUCSON, Ariz., March 29—The Cleveland Indians were convinced today that one place to "hit 'em where they ain't" is over the wall.

Edged out of the 1947 American league home run crown by the New York Yankees, the Indians served notice to the world champs yesterday that they will be gunning for that title this season. The rampant Redskins rapped three circuit clouts for their sixth straight exhibition victory, 7-5, over the Chicago Cubs.

Two homers by Joe Gordon, runner-up for the circuit home run title last year with 29, and a three-run blast by Eddie Robinson sent the Tribe's roundtrip total to 19 in 14 games this spring—far ahead of any other major league club.

Robinson, aiming to keep first basemen - second vice president Hank Greenberg glued to an office swivel chair this summer, blasted his game-winning clout in the seventh inning with two aboard to wipe out the Cubs' 5-3 lead. Gordon followed with his second four-bagger to seal the verdict.

Bob Feller held Chicago to one run and four hits in four innings of hurling, but the most impressive pitcher of the day was Cleveland's Steve Gromek. The Tribe right-hander faced only seven batters in two scoreless innings, granting but one hit. The Cubs blasted Don Black for four runs on five hits in the fifth.

KATHRYNS RETAIN TITLE

M'MILLEN, BEHMS WIN SEMI-FINALS

McMillen Feed defeated Schlairet Transfer, 50-41, and Tiffin Behm's downed Roxy Grill, 60-49, Saturday night at the Y.M.C.A. in the Gold Medal tournament semi-finals.

McMillen and Schlairet players nip and tuck ball all the way and kept the fans standing practically the whole game as both teams went all out in their fourth meeting this season. Each team has won twice. Saturday McMillen led all the way with the exception of a four point, 16-12 first quarter deficit. Jones and Riley paced the winners with 14 and 12 points respectively, while West counted 11 to lead the losers.

Tiffin led Roxy 34-22 at the end of the first half but Roxy, on the highscoring of Blair, Rowland and Moncur, who scored 15, 12, and 10 points each came back to tie the score in the third period. Tiffin then made a comeback of their own, to score 20 points in the final quarter and take the verdict. Frank hit for 24 points and Ed Behm eleven to pace the winners.

Everly and Vollrath officiated. The finals will be played at the Y.M.C.A. April 2.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

By AP Newsfeatures

HOWARD LINDSAY, born March 29, 1899, in Waterford, N Y., made show business history when with Russel Crouse he co-authored "Life With Father" and starred in the play which ran seven years on Broadway As a child Lindsay took elocution lessons because the teacher owed his uncle a bill. At Harvard he studied for the ministry but a drama school catalog fell into his hands and changed his destiny He made his first stage appearance in 1909

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Mike Jacobs is much better since he heard Joe Louis now is willing to fight for a purse of ice skates For years Joe wouldn't take anything but money.

The champ will box two exhibitions in Sweden for 2,600 pair of ice skates and I hear Joe Walcott says Louis also better win a bicycle

But with the Swedish precedent established the next title bout may be refereed by Ralph Edwards . If they can get a third man in a ring cluttered up with fireless cookers, toasters and refrigerators

The jackpot prize will be the awarding of Mike Jacobs to whichever fighter thumbas the best to Mike's China castanets

Edwards is the boy to handle the deal He is personally responsible for 75 per cent of today's refrigerator production

Although I know some people who aren't quite bright They bought a refrigerator when they could have had tickets to a broadcast
